Henry County Soil and Water Conservation District Supervisors Receive Oaths from New Region Four Representative

On January 12, 2015, the Henry County Soil and Water Conservation District held their first District meeting of the New Year. The first act of business was to give the oath of office to the newly elected Supervisor Vicky Consiglio, re-elected Supervisors Amy Wolf Rollins and Ronald Turpin, and reappointed Supervisors Butch Oliver and Bo Simpson.

There are five supervisors representing Henry County, three being elected and two being appointed. The supervisors meet monthly to discuss pressing soil and water resource related issues facing Henry County, as well as opportunities for conservation education and outreach.

The oath was given by the new Georgia Soil and Water Conservation Region Four Representative, Andy Dyar. Mr. Dyar is a resident of Greene County and has been with the Commission since 2006. Mr. Dyar graduated from the University of Georgia and received a degree in Agricultural and Environmental Sciences. His duties began in the Milledgeville office and later transferred to the Athens office where he worked in the Watershed Dam Program and then as a Resource Specialist in the Region Two office. Mr. Dyar says “It’s great to be back in the Region Four area and I look forward to working with the people in this area.”
