

On August 29, GSWCC employees Josh Jackwood and Stuart Suttle represented both the agency and Blue Ridge SWCD at the Rabun County Schools Ag Day. Over 500 students attended the event. Josh and Stuart used the Eviroscape model to demonstrate how water and pollutants move throughout the watershed. The students learned how different activities within their community can impact their local water quality.

