

On May 4, Lincoln Soil & Water Conservation District and Double Branches Farm treated LCES 5th Graders to a farm field day. Double Branches Farm is owned by District Supervisor Becky Tankersley and her husband Brian. Students rotated among various stations throughout the day and learned about vegetable, fruit and nut gardening, cattle and chickens, pollinators, forestry, soil properties and soil erosion. The Lincoln County, Soil and Water District Supervisors also grilled hamburgers and hotdogs for the students. The District will host the 8th grade for another field day on May 22.
