

Oglethorpe County Middle School students use school pollinator garden to participate in the Georgia Pollinator Census. The school's newest pollinator garden was made possible by the Broad River SWCD and GACD. The school received a grant two years ago and after a year of solarizing the soil with black plastic, the students put down seeds this past spring and are seeing lots of growth now. The pollinators were very active on the day of the count!

